

ISHAM HARRIS DEAD.

VETERAN SOUTHERN WARRIOR AND STATESMAN.

Served in Congress Earlier Than Any Now There—Was Tennessee's War Governor and an Ardent Supporter of the Confederacy—20 Years in Senate

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Senator Isham G. Harris, of Tennessee, died at his residence here a few minutes before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Probably no man in public life had been identified with more of the history of this country than had Senator Harris. He had almost completed his 79th year, having been born in February, 1818, and first became a member of congress in 1849. His congressional career thus began earlier than that of any member of either house, antedating Senators Morrill and Sherman by seven years, and Hon. Galusha A. Grow, now a member of the house from Pennsylvania, by one year. Mr. Harris had, when he was elected to the national house of representatives, already become a man of state reputation in Tennessee, having the year previously served as a presidential elector on the Democratic ticket, and two years before been elected a member of the legislature of the state.

Mr. Harris represented the Ninth Tennessee district in Congress for the two terms ending in 1853, when he declined a renomination. He then moved to Memphis, where he has since resided. Here he was engaged in the practice of law until 1857, with the interruption necessary to allow him to become a presidential elector in 1856. He was three times in succession before the war, beginning in 1857, elected governor of his state, and was serving in that capacity when the war broke out.

He took a pronounced stand for the Southern Confederacy and was known as one of the southern war governors. The vicissitudes of conflict rendered a frequent change of residence necessary, and he was often with the army in the field. He attached himself at different times to the staffs of General Albert Sidney Johnston, General Joseph E. Johnston, General Beauregard and General Bragg. Albert Sidney Johnston fell from his horse into Senator Harris' arms when he received his death wound.

After Lee's surrender Mr. Harris was one of a small party of political refugees who escaped to Mexico, going across the country on horseback. Parson Brownlow, who had become the military governor of Tennessee, offered a large reward in a characteristically worded poster for the capture of his predecessor, but the latter remained absent from the country until his return was safe. He remained in Mexico for several months, going thence to Europe, where he resided until 1867, when he returned to Memphis and resumed his practice of the law.

Mr. Harris was allowed to follow the pursuits of the private citizen until 1877, when he was elected to the United States Senate, defeating Hon. L. L. Hawkins, Republican. He has remained a member of the Senate ever since, and would have completed his twentieth consecutive year in that body on the 4th of next March, if he had lived to that date. He had been four times elected to the Senate, the last time in 1895, and his term would not have expired until 1901.

Senator Harris had received almost all the honors that the Senate could bestow. He was the president pro tempore during the Fifty-third Congress, a leading member of the committee of finance and rules, and also of the Democratic advisory or steering committee.

STRIKE SITUATION.

Pittsburg and Cleveland Fear a Coal

Famine—Railroads Confiscated Coal.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 10.—The situation of the miners' strike shows but little direct change. The principal movement made by the strikers yesterday was the securing of a conference of the national leaders of the several powerful labor organizations of the country, with the purpose in view of devising ways and means to assist those who are making what is considered by all of them the supreme effort for wage advancement.

The shortage of coal is severely felt by the railroads. Wholesale confiscations are the rule on all lines shipping west. There is strong probability that the street railways and the suburban electric railways may have to shut down for want of coal. The big and little consolidated railway companies have only enough coal for three days. Fifteen cars consigned to the big consolidated were confiscated by the railway companies to-day. The street railways are much concerned over the matter.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Bradstreet Reports Only a Moderate Volume of Business.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Bradstreet's says: "There is only a moderate volume of trade throughout the country, the more noteworthy changes being a checked demand West and Northwest, due to the excessive heat and to storms, continued favorable reports as to the cereal and other crop prospects and disturbance in industrial lines due to the strike of about 120,000 bituminous coal miners. The reluctance of West Virginia operatives to join in the strike complicates the situation. The prospect of an early settlement of the tariff has strengthened the widespread feeling of hopefulness that the autumn will bring a revival of consumptive demand."

A PARDON FOR SELLS.

KANSAS BOY MURDERER LIKELY TO GO FREE.

Board of Pardons Has Recommended It—The Board Issues a Lengthy Statement Defending Its Action in Favoring the Murderer.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 10.—The State Board of Pardons yesterday recommended to Governor Leedy a pardon for Willie Sells. Governor Leedy will not act on the matter for several days.

In a summary of the evidence the board says: "The average mind, in a condition of excitement, can't weigh testimony. It does not want to. Public sentiment demanded a conviction and one resulted. We have followed up carefully the various reports concerning 'alleged confessions' made by Willie and we are constrained to believe that a confession was never made. Evidence has been introduced before this board that points to other parties than Willie Sells as the possible and probable perpetrators of the crime, but it is not the province or the duty of this board to try suspected parties. Grave doubts of his guilt have always existed in the minds of a great many people in Neosho county who are acquainted with the circumstances of his conviction, and time, with other developments, has increased that feeling of uncertainty."

The board says that Willie was an obedient, good boy; that it was highly improbable that he could have killed his father after a struggle, because of his father's superior strength, and closes with this statement: "This board, after a thorough investigation and mature deliberation, is of the opinion that Willie Sells is innocent of the crime with which he was charged and convicted and for which he has suffered eleven years of imprisonment. We believe that justice—justice pure and simple—would only be meted out by saying to Willie Sells: 'Go out into the world with the charge of murder under which you have rested so long entirely wiped out.' Therefore we most respectfully and earnestly recommend that your excellency grant said Willie Sells an unconditional pardon."

All three members of the board signed the report.

CRAZED BY JEALOUSY.

Murder and Suicide Near Cameron, Mo.

—A Young Man's Awful Deed.

CAMERON, Mo., July 7.—Henry Whitaker, 23 years old, son of a prosperous farmer of this county, shot and killed his sweetheart yesterday and attempted to kill his rival. Then he sent a bullet into his own brain.

For several months he has been paying attentions to the pretty 18-year-old daughter of Sam Thompson, a neighboring farmer. Monday Miss Thompson attended a Fourth of July celebration at Cameron in company with young Whitaker's rival, Whitaker saw them and endeavored to induce Miss Thompson to leave her escort and accompany him. The young woman refused to do so.

Yesterday morning Whitaker armed himself and went to Miss Thompson's home. He first encountered his rival and fired several shots at him, none of which took effect. The rival fled and summoned the neighbors. What transpired after Whitaker met Miss Thompson is not known. When the neighbors came they found the girl with a bullet wound in the forehead and Whitaker dead at her side.

The tragedy has created a profound sensation over the county, as the families of both the principals are widely known and highly respected.

A PHYSICIAN KILLED.

Dr. L. A. Berger Shot Down on a Kansas City Street.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 9.—Dr. L. A. Berger, one of the most prominent and popular physicians of Kansas City, was shot yesterday afternoon by John Schlegel, a grocer of 321 East Eighth street. He lived only fifteen minutes and was conscious but a few moments—just long enough to learn that he was mortally wounded.

Schlegel says that he killed Dr. Berger because the latter committed rape upon Mrs. Schlegel last November. He did not kill him sooner, he says, because he wanted to make inquiries and find if he would be justified in taking the doctor's life. Developments show that he tried to find Dr. Berger last Sunday, presumably to kill him, with a pistol of smaller caliber which he already owned. Prior to yesterday's tragedy he mistook a man from Port Arthur, Tex., as the doctor and came near shooting him instead. The story of a criminal assault upon Mrs. Schlegel is discredited by the friends of the dead man.

The negative vote was cast by 25 Democrats, 2 Populists, Harris of Kansas and Turner, and 1 Silver Republican, Cannon. Total, 28.

Eight Republicans were paired for the bill and eight Democrats against it. The senators present and not voting were: Populists, 5, viz: Allen, Butler, Hittelford, Kyle and Stewart; Silver Republicans, 2, viz: Teller and Pettigrew.

Following the passage of the bill a resolution was agreed to asking the House for a conference, and Senators Allison, Aldrich, Platt of Connecticut, Burrows, Jones of Nevada, Vest, Jones of Arkansas and White were named as conferees on the part of the Senate.

The bill as it goes back to the House re-enacts the anti-trust sections of the Wilson act, while the reciprocity and retaliatory provisions are substituted for those of the House. One of the most important new provisions added by the Senate is that placing a stamp tax on bonds, debentures and certificates of stock. Aside from these more important changes, the bill as it goes back to the House has 874 amendments of various degrees of importance, which must be reconciled between the two branches of Congress.

KILLED HIS BROTHER.

A Kansas City Physician Kills His Brother in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 8.—Early this morning Dr. John Cornwall, who runs a tonic beer factory here, reproved his son Herbert for intemperance. This enraged the young man and he started to strike his father.

Dr. Richmond Cornwall of Kansas City, oldest son of Dr. John Cornwall, who was present, interfered and Herbert attacked him. Richmond drew a revolver and as his brother rushed on him fired five shots, each of which took effect, but did not inflict disabling wounds.

Richmond then seized a stone jar and beat his brother over the head and face, crushing the bones and killing him almost instantly. Then Richmond surrendered to the police.

The father was almost paralyzed with terror while the affray was in progress, and stood speechless in a remote corner of the room. He is 72 years old and it is feared that the shock will kill him.

Herbert Cornwall was one of the most vicious characters in the Fourth police district. He had been arrested time and again for murderous assaults. He was a drunkard and a profligate, while his father and brothers were strictly abstainers. His father's money kept him out of the penitentiary.

Men gave way beneath the terrible strain and horses were bowled over like tenpins. There were six deaths and numerous prostrations from the heat during the day. The thermometer stood at 95 and over for five hours. For ten hours it was over 90. The highest temperature was 97 degrees at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but it was 96 at 2 and again at 4 o'clock. MANY OPPOSE PARDON.

Minnesota Does Not Take Kindly to Younger Boys' Release.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 9.—At a meeting of the city council a committee was appointed to appear before the Board of Pardons and protest against the threatened release of the Younger brothers. This action on the part of the council was unanimous.

At the State house a large portion of the mail received is on the subject of the pardon of the Younger boys.
